

MARYLAND STATE ARTS COUNCIL

Maryland Regional Virtual Exhibition Series #1 Capital Maryland

Monday, August 16, 2021 to Friday, October 15, 2021

The Maryland State Arts Council presents Maryland Regional virtual exhibition series to showcase multidisciplinary artists from all five different regions of Maryland. This is a year-long series and starts with Series #1 Capital Maryland. We hope you enjoy 30 different artworks from Frederick, Montgomery, & Prince George's County.

Participating artists

Paula Rubin-Wexler

Ray C. Shaw at MAD Dance

Karin Birch

Alyscia Cunningham

Greg Mort

Laroslava Zonova

Hillary Steel

Jacqueline Hoysted

Marissa Michel

Akua Allrich

Curtis Woody

Rachel Ann Cross

Junious Brickhouse

Erwin Timmers

Ronald Beverly

Welcome message

Welcome to the Maryland Regional Virtual Exhibition Series
Artists from the Capital Maryland

Paula Rubin-Wexler
Jean's View, 2020

Oil on canvas

Ronald Beverly
Malecón Cuba, 2021

Digital Photography

Alyscia Cunningham
Marguerite, I Am More Than My Hair, 2017

Digital photography

Alyscia Cunningham
Katie, I Am More Than My Hair, 2017

Digital Photography

Over Under, 2021

Digital Photography

Karin Birch

When the Roots Speak to the Sky, 2020

Hand embroidery beadwork & acrylic on linen

Karin Birch

Floods, Fire, Pandemic, 2020

Hand embroidery beadwork & acrylic on linen

Greg Mort

Afterglow, 2021

Oil on canvas

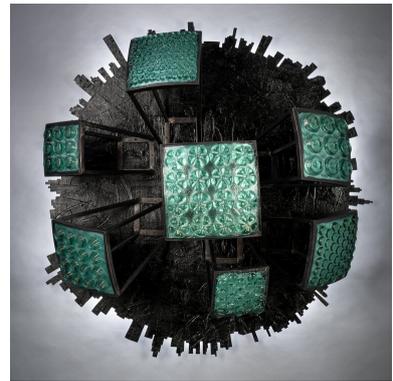

Greg Mort
Blue Moon Light, 2021
watercolor on paper

Erwin Timmers
Untitled, 2021
Mixed media

Erwin Timmers
Untitled, 2021
Media

—

Laroslava Zonova
Russian folk song from "FunkLore" , 2021

Russian folksong performance

—

Rachel Ann Cross
Our Lady of Hope, 2021

#Mixed Media on Canvas

—

Marissa Michel
To Exist Here Forever & Bloom, 2021

Poem

Rachel Ann Cross
Dream Home, 2021

Mixed media

Curtis Woody
Raise your Words, 2021

Mixed media

Curtis Woody
Daughters of Africa, 2021

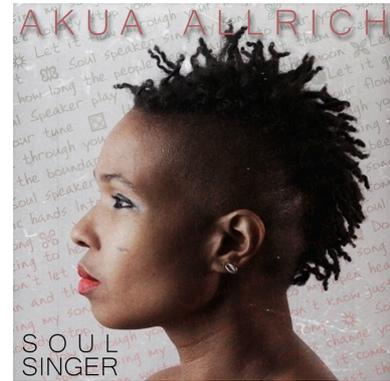

Mixed media

Akua Allrich
Soul Singer Album Cover, 2021

Music

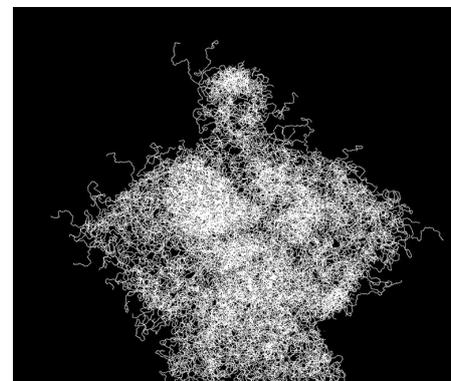

Ray C. Shaw at MAD Dance
Arrived, 2020

Dance / Choreography

Jacqueline Hoysted
Assimilation, 2021

Software program simulating a bio burial where the body is consumed by fungi

Jacqueline Hoysted
(bio)Object. After Meret Oppenheim's Object (1936), 2020

Bio sculpture created by casting, growing and baking mycelium (fungi).

Hillary Steel
Sheltered, 2019

Double Ikat, hand weaving, Shibori resist dyeing, sewing cotton

Hillary Steel
Phoenix, 2016

Ikat resist dyeing, hand weaving, sewing cotton

Junious Brickhouse

A portrait of Junious Brickhouse, 2021

Digital Photography

Marissa Michel

A Friend Passed Away On Saturday Night, 2021

Poem

A Friend Passed Away On a Saturday Night

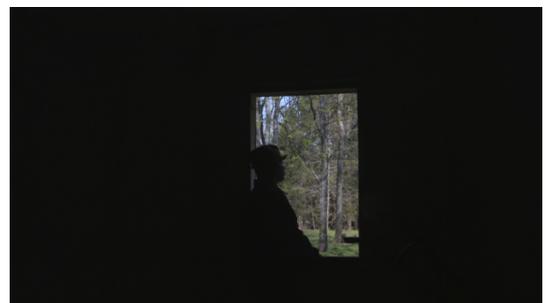

On nights like these stones find their way in to my throat and keep the words from flowing Know you put them there, stones and words and a part of me i forget to check the time but it doesn't matter because the hours stop for no one and only Death knows the horizon i know reflections
On nights like these i catch my tears in sunflowers
Because they remind me of you and then i ask God why he leaves me with thread and broken canvas when i demand the tapestry i cannot rely on memory i catch the sunlight in an empty room and mistake it for your smile i break my poems into pieces because they will never be enough On nights like these i curse the moon for shining and then repent i knew you for seconds and an eternity and i am sorry that it will never be enough On nights like these i sink into the murky river and notice how the Carp beg for air i touch the sky and the clouds bleed a thousand colors i touch the sky and remember all the brilliant days my friend will never see again i touch the sky and thank you for giving me so many

Junious Brickhouse

Crooked Road, Choreography, 2021

chreography

Paula Rubin-Wexler
Braddock's Bold Sunset, 2020

Oil on canvas

Featuring artworks

