Survival of the world depends on our sharing what we have, and working together. If we don't the whole world will die. First the planet and next the people.

WHY?

Ceremonies are all about unity, listening, bringing people together so there is community during life's transitions. Ceremonies nurture our well being. By creating a sacred space for connecting people with nature, humans are able to release pain, and become better stewards of their lives and the Earth itself. Ceremonies preserve culture, they keep the ancient wisdom, stories and languages alive, which in turn nurtures spiritual growth. Honoring the ancestors teaches cultural values, mindfulness, and problem solving. That's because ceremonies maintain the balance between humans, nature, and spirit. In our disconnected, chaotic world, they offer a path to reconnect with ourselves, our communities, and our shared humanity.

HOW?

Not all ceremonies are public, nor are they all private. By bringing people together and providing a long overdue space for ritual, we engage in a personal transformation that leads to collective experiences. By returning the original cosmology to the land we contribute to the healing of its historical trauma.
