Coppin State University Background:
Coppin State University (CSU) is an urban residential liberal arts university within the University System of Maryland. Located in the northwest section of the City of Baltimore, Coppin provides academic programs in the arts and sciences, teacher education, nursing, graduate studies, and continuing education. An HBCU (Historically Black College and University), Coppin has a culturally rich history as an institution providing quality educational programs and community outreach services. Coppin offers 53 majors and nine graduate-degree programs. A fully accredited institution, Coppin serves Baltimore residents as well as students from around the world, with flexible course schedules that include convenient day, evening, and weekend classes and distance learning. Coppin prides itself on promoting community revitalization while empowering and preparing students with the mission of meeting the challenges associated with urban communities.

Coppin was founded in 1900 at what was then called “Colored High School” (later named Douglass High School) on Pennsylvania Avenue by the Baltimore City School Board, who initiated a one-year training course for the preparation of African-American elementary school teachers.

The student population consists of nearly 4,000 students enrolled in day, evening, and weekend undergraduate/graduate courses. Many Coppin students and alumni are graduates of Baltimore City and Baltimore County Public School Systems from diverse ethnic, religious, and socio-economic backgrounds. The University seeks to transform the lives of its students who return to their communities as change agents and has graduated thousands of alumni who are making a significant impact across the State of Maryland in various fields, particularly Human Services.

Now, and in the years to come, Coppin State University will continue to help bring the dreams of its students to fruition through its educational programs, reach beyond its campus to help the community, and serve the citizens of Baltimore, the State of Maryland, and the nation.
College of Business Building:
Through renovations and a new addition, the existing Percy Julian Science and Art Building will be transformed into the new home of the College of Business. The building is located at the northeast corner of North Avenue and Loop Road, directly opposite Coppin’s Science and Technology Center, completed in 2017. North Avenue is a high traffic east-west route in Central Baltimore and the Maryland Transit Administration’s second busiest bus route serving approximately four million customers annually and connects both the Baltimore Metro Subway and Light Rail systems. North Avenue also connects the Coppin campus to the recently established Pennsylvania Avenue Black Arts & Entertainment District and Historic Arch Social Club approximately one mile to the east of Coppin’s campus.

The College of Business is one of the first buildings visible as one approaches the Campus from the east. The dramatic new addition and renovations will emphasize the innovative academic programs offered, including vibrant outreach programs on the ground floor, strengthening the connection between the College of Business and the community. The new College of Business building, paired with the geometry and architectural fabric of the Science and Technology Center, will continue to activate and strengthen Coppin State’s presence providing an iconic gateway to the campus along North Avenue.
Commissioned Artwork Location:
Coppin State University seeks to commission a new and unique site-specific artwork for the new College of Business. The general location selected for the commissioned artwork is on the exterior of the building at the intersection of North Avenue and Loop Road. The artwork will be viewed and experienced by both the campus community and West Baltimore community.

Artwork Themes and Goals:
The commissioned artwork will be the first public artwork on the Coppin State University campus. Given its importance to the University and its prominent high visibility location, the artwork should honor the history and presence of the University as an urban HBCU with an open door to the Baltimore community. The artwork should reflect the overall values of the University to connect, inspire and empower the residents of Baltimore and the state.

Eligibility:
All professional artists or artist teams living in the United States may apply. If artists are applying as a team, the team should be listed on the application form, specifying a team leader to receive notifications. Artists currently enrolled in a university or college degree program are not eligible to apply.

Budget Details:
The total budget of the artwork commission is $190,000, inclusive of all costs associated with the project, including but not limited to: artist fee and expenses (sub-consultants, travel/lodging, printing, overhead, etc...), artwork shop drawings and specifications; artwork materials and fabrication; storage (if applicable), transportation and installation; related permits, license, insurance; and related significant site modifications.

The project plans currently include a conduit line for power and data running to the general artwork location. Project design team can assist with determining lighting specs and locations in relation to the overall project.

Up to four semi-finalists will be invited to make proposals for each location. Each semi-finalist artist or artist team will receive a $2,500 stipend to develop a proposal.
Contract:
The artist will contract directly with Coppin State University and work with the Maryland State Arts Council Public Art staff to oversee all aspects of the artwork from design development through project implementation and installation. The contract will be posted on (LINK) eMaryland Marketplace. The artist will be responsible for submitting an artwork maintenance manual upon completion. The artist will engage the campus in a public forum after the completion of the project to introduce the artwork to the campus and community.

About the Maryland Public Art Initiative Program:
Established in 2013, the Maryland Public Art Initiative is the State of Maryland’s Percent-for-Art program. For all new or renovated State-owned buildings, a percentage of the construction budget is set aside for public art. Independent artists apply for a project through an open Call to Artists and are selected by an artist selection committee. MSAC manages the process from artist selection, through design, fabrication, and installation and the work becomes part of the State public art collection. msac.org
