

Organization or Artist Name	County	Discipline	Statement
CreativeMornings/Baltimore	Baltimore City	Multi-Discipline	Creative Mornings/Baltimore, a free monthly creative lecture series, will use funds to purchase an LCD projector which will increase flexibility—enabling them to reach wider and more diverse audiences around Baltimore City.
Tatiana Chulochnikova	Montgomery	Music	The BaRock Band is receiving funding for a public concert on May 23 in Silver Spring MD, featuring diverse young artists from across the US to perform beloved classical music masterpieces of the 18th and 20th centuries.
Arabber Preservation Society	Baltimore City	Visual/Media Arts	The Creativity Grant will fund completion of the 4K digital restoration of one of the oldest 16mm film documentaries on the Arabbers, making available a unique record of Baltimore's diverse and rich history to students, teachers, libraries and scholars everywhere, while also offering a look at a solution to the current concerns of employment, entrepreneurship and ever-expanding food deserts in the city, concerns in 1976 that are even greater today.
Passager	Baltimore City	Literary Arts	Passager, Inc., will produce and disseminate Burning Bright, a weekly audio podcast/e-newsletter program (five to seven minutes long) that highlights Passager writers and their work.
Kitty Clark	Washington	Dance	Funding will support MAD Dance's "Time Travelers Alight," a series of four pop-up dance performances in Hagerstown's City Park, on the Cultural Trail, and within the Arts & Entertainment District, integrating modern/post-modern dance, improvisation, costume, and original music.
Pablo de Oliveira	Prince George's	Folk and Traditional Arts	The Creativity Grant will support the development and recording of original music for the new show Performing Otherness: Ainihi & Alteridade, a dance and music project which examines ainihi ("identity" in Hausa) and alteridade ("otherness" in Portuguese) in Nigerian and Brazilian carnival traditions.
Smith Island United	Somerset	Arts Services	Funding will support a boat to transport artists to Smith Island, festival music, a photo contest with prizes, and other festival expenses.
Alice Ferguson Foundation	Prince George's	Theatre	Funding will support direct cost expenses, including royalties and scripts, reimbursements, the maintenance of the theater space, replacement of stage items, and other upkeep expenses.
Maia Owen	Baltimore City	Multi-Discipline	Youth Voices for Consent (YVC), a youth-led platform for artistic solutions to end sexual violence, will premier a short film and engage with other young people and families in Baltimore City by hosting a Youth Summit.